Office of Ethics & Integrity

Department Description

The Office of Ethics and Integrity (OEI) is composed of five programs: Ethics and Integrity, Diversity Commitment, Human Relations Commission (HRC), Citizens' Review Board on Police Practices (CRB), and Disability Services.

The Ethics and Integrity portion of the Office extends to all employees in departments under the direction of the Mayor and provides leadership and guidance to employees regarding the City's ethics-related rules and regulations. The office provides ethics training and resources for classified and unclassified staff and also oversees an employee hotline where employees can confidentially report waste, fraud, abuse, or other unethical behavior.

The internally-focused Diversity Commitment supports the creation of an environment where differences are valued and all City employees are productive parts of a high performing team delivering services to the community. Externally, HRC was established to conduct and promote activities that foster mutual respect, understanding and that protect basic human and civil rights and to create an atmosphere that promotes amicable relations among all members of the San Diego community.

The CRB seeks to increase public confidence in, and effectiveness of, the San Diego Police Department through review and evaluation of serious complaints, officer-involved shootings, and in-custody deaths.

Disability Services works to ensure that every facility, activity, benefit, program and service operated or funded by the City is fully accessible to, and usable by, people with disabilities in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), as well as other federal, state and local access codes and disability rights laws.

The Department's mission is:

To strengthen the City's Ethical Climate so that honor is cherished, personal integrity, and ethical courage are the cultural norms and all employees are supported and encouraged to use their judgment and initiative in the conduct of ethical practices in the workplace

Service Efforts and Accomplishments

Ethics and Integrity conducted "Fostering and Promoting Open & Honest Communication" ethics training for all unclassified leadership, and an Executive Leadership Ethics Roundtable for the Mayor's executive team. In addition, Ethics and Integrity created and distributed the Employee Code of Conduct Handbook, a comprehensive guide to the City's policies and procedures intended to help employees become familiar with the City's ethical framework. Finally, the office launched the pilot of its online ethics training, with full roll-out beginning in Fiscal Year 2008.

The Diversity Commitment was reinvigorated with the inclusion of cultural competence and inclusive leadership on unclassified performance evaluations, the creation of a "train the trainer" facilitator program, and a well-attended special event with anti-racist author Dr. Robert Jensen.

The HRC was actively involved in addressing many arenas in the area of human relations, including healthcare disparities, immigration, hate crimes, and regional human relations issues. After a record turnout at the January 2007 All People's Breakfast, the Commission successfully transitioned responsibility for organizing the event to a community organization.

Office of Ethics & Integrity

The CRB continued to focus on training and educational efforts for police officers, board members, and the community at large. This outreach includes targeted recruitment to maintain the diversity of Board membership, informational materials printed in Spanish, and presentations at police lineups.

Successful recruitment of a candidate with significant experience in disability issues and program oversight positioned the Disability Services Program to build momentum as $10 million was allocated for ADA compliance, up from approximately $1.1 million the year before.
